

Lab Supply provides a complete line of products for lab animal facilities including animal diets, beddings, enrichment items and personal protection equipment (PPE). We have been providing these products to customers in Texas and adjoining states for more than twenty years.

Our 12,000 square foot warehouse facility in Fort Worth and our 6,000 square foot warehouse in Houston are climate controlled with redundant HVAC systems. We constantly monitor and document temperature to make sure that the warehouse is less than 70 degrees with 50% humidity readings. We are also proactive in pest control and we use a nationally recognized company to manage the program.

We also provide further support to our customers with custom services such as irradiation of products, analytical assays of products or weekly delivery of products in our trucks for “just in time” inventory.
